

CHRIS CUCCI

Profile

As a CRE lender and commercial banking professional, I have enjoyed a nearly 20 year career in banking with the last decade focused primarily on commercial lending for investors as well as owner-users.

Extensive experience in financial analysis of CRE projects across all asset classes as well as analysis of C&I loans allows me to quickly assess risk of new CRE investment opportunities.

A background in technology and experience in digital media marketing have provided me the foundation to effectively leverage social media and other digital marketing routes to develop and enhance my professional brand.
